I'm a technically inclined artist, sales/marketing professional, bicycle mechanic/cyclist, and family man. In addition to being well versed in the arts, I have a fervent curiosity about the world, science, and a general need to understand the way things work; accompanied by an insatiable urge to innovate and create better systems and designs. Nothing gives me such great satisfaction, as applying hard work to due diligence, to meet challenging and seemingly lofty goals. In the past decade after receiving a BA from The Art Institute, I've lived around the country, got married, and have raised two incredible, wonderful kids; who both blow my mind, and challenge me to my very core - every single day! All the exciting, enriching, frightening, and life changing experiences, adventures and tribulations I've endured, have prepared me for a new phase in my professional development and evolving career.

OBJECTIVE

Your success, is my business; my job as a skillful proponent, is to do my utmost to add value to your business, to labor toward making your establishment exemplary, extraordinary! I believe that these efforts will empower me to refine my own competencies, build character, and create more professional opportunities.
